

SORRY

NOW THAT HE KILLED THE PRESIDENT.

ASSASSIN ARRIVED IN STATE OF COLLAPSE TODAY.

WAS CARRIED WHILE SHRIEKING

Into Office at Auburn Prison but Later Regained His Stolid Indifference—Revived With Brandy—The Closing Scenes in Court and Departure from Buffalo Thursday Night.

Auburn, N. Y., Sept. 27.—Assassin Czolgosz arrived at Auburn Prison this morning in a state of collapse, and now says he regrets having killed President McKinley. As he was hustled from the train today 1,500 people rushed up and twenty policemen were unable to defend the assassin from some of the blows aimed at him. As Czolgosz reached the prison steps his legs gave way and moaning and shrieking he was carried into the prison office and revived with a drink of brandy. Later today in his cell he regained his stolid indifference.

ASSASSIN TALKS ON TRAIN WHILE ON WAY TO PRISON

Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 27.—The assassin of the President, while being taken to Auburn prison said to a newspaper man who rode with him on the train, sitting in the seat behind:

"I am sorry I did it, and I want you to say so in your paper."

"Do you think it was a mistake?"

"Yes, it was a mistake."

"If you had to do it over again would you do it?"

"Oh I would not. It was a mistake?"

"Do you think it helped anybody, those whom you wanted to help?"

"No, I don't think it did. But it is too late to talk about that now. It is too late."

"Whom did you want to help, the laboring people of the country?"

"I don't know whom I wanted to help."

"What good could such an act do?"

"I don't know as it did any."

"Was your mind influenced by reading 'Anarchist' newspapers or books?"

"I don't know."

"What were you thinking of the day you shot the President?"

"It's too late to talk about that now."

"What was your complaint against the President?"

"I had nothing against him. Nothing personal."

"Do you know anybody in Paterson, N. J., any Anarchists?"

"No, I don't know anybody there."

"Was your trial fair?"

"Yes, it was fairer than I thought I would get." The Judge could not help doing what he did.

The assassin, who became rather communicative after a while said:

"It is not true that I was married to any woman in West Virginia. I have never been married. It is not true anybody else told me to do this thing. It is not true that I acted for anybody. I told the truth to the Judge."

IN A WELL

Mother and Her Three Children Found Dead Today at Northfield Center, Ohio.—Insane.

Northfield, Center, Ohio, Sept. 27.—Mrs. Perry Curtiss and her three little children were found drowned in a well here this morning. Mrs. Curtiss was only recently released from an asylum and it is believed she drowned her children and herself. Her husband was away from home at the time.

Woman Burglar.

Binghamton, N. Y., Sept. 27.—A masked woman burglar is terrorizing the village of Oxford and vicinity. Recently there have been a number of daring robberies there. Several nights ago, night watchman Rogers was startled to see a masked woman, attired in a semi-masculine costume, dart from behind a tree in a residence portion of the village and escape into darkness. Since then the woman has been seen several times and each time just before or after a burglary or attempt at one. She has not been captured.

BOY BABY

GIVEN AWAY BY GRIEF STRICKEN FATHER YEARS AGO.

Just Reclaimed in Columbus—To Be Sent to College—Love Came Back With Years.

Columbus, O., Sept. 27.—James Edward Sharpe, of this city, found that A. Odenwald, whom for 20 years he had looked upon as his father, does not stand in that relation to him after all, and that his real parent is James Sharp, a wealthy resident of Nashville, Tenn. Mr. Sharp, who has been hunting for his lost son for 20 years, found him, and returned with him to his Southern home yesterday. The story reads like a romance. When Mrs. Sharp gave birth to the boy 21 years ago, she paid with her life for him.

The grief-stricken young husband could not bear the sight of the baby and gave him to Mr. and Mrs. Odenwald, who were his friends to raise. As years passed the young couple became so greatly attached to the child that they could not bear to part with him, and one day quietly disappeared from their home in Frozeport, Md., leaving no trace. Mr. Sharp has searched for the boy ever since, and last week obtained a trace to the whereabouts of the Odenwalds. He has now claimed the young fellow and will send him to college and provide for him.

M'Kinley Memorial

Columbus, Sept. 27.—The McKinley National Memorial association was incorporated today by Judge Wm. R. Day, Wm. A. Lynch and other prominent Cantonians. The purpose is to erect a suitable memorial tomb at Canton to the late President, and any surplus funds are to be used in the erection of a memorial at Washington.

Mosquitoes and other gnats furnish almost the sole food for a large family of insect-eating birds, known as flycatchers.

Lucky Man's Troubles.

To fence the north side, one mile long, Wood must go through an almost solid row of tents, stores and shacks.

DECREE

OF DIVORCE SECURED BY MRS. PULLMAN.

ANOTHER STRIKING EPOCH IN GEORGE'S CAREER.

HE IS SAID TO BE ENGAGED

To Marry the Sister of His Twin Brother's Wife—Must Pay His Wife a Thousand Per Year Alimony—Story of the Bowers Affair is Recalled.

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 27.—Another striking epoch in the career of young George Pullman was marked today when a circuit court decree was signed granting a divorce to his wife, who before their marriage was Miss Lynne Fernald. Mrs. Pullman, who also gets $1,000 a year alimony, charged desertion but testimony was introduced showing Pullman's relations with Mrs. Blanche Bowers, wife of the noted song writer, with whom Pullman went to New York to live.

Bowers has sued Pullman for $100,000 for alienation of his wife's affections, and Mrs. Bowers, who has been put aside by Pullman, also threatens to make trouble.

Pullman, who is in San Francisco, is said to be engaged to marry a Miss West, sister of his brother, Sanger's, wife.

The careers of George Pullman and his twin brother, Sanger, have been full of penny dreadful romance. There has never, however, been any denial of the fervent affection existing between the two brothers—an affection so deep that it permitted the transfer of fiancée from one to the other without rupture or recrimination.

Prior to the disinheritation of the Pullman twins by their father, George was engaged to Felicitie Oglesby, a daughter of former Governor Oglesby. The breaking of the engagement followed the reading of the will. At the same time Sanger Pullman was engaged to Lynne Fernald. The two engagements were broken almost simultaneously and George's marriage to Miss Fernald followed soon after, without prior announcement, formal or informal.

Not so long afterward Sanger himself found a bride. She was a Miss West of San Francisco. A year ago George's health failed and after visiting various health resorts he went to San Francisco. There he was nursed by Mrs. Sanger Pullman's sister, and recent reports received from the coast say that he will make her his wife, as soon as Mrs. Pullman secures a divorce.

WON A BRIDE

After an Elopement to Cincinnati Had Failed—Dan Cupid Scores a Neat Victory.

Marysville, O., Sept. 27.—Cupid has at last scored a victory in the courtship of Miss Jennie Guy, of near Mechanicsburg and Charles B. McClurg of Irwin, who were united in marriage yesterday at the Congressional parsonage by Rev. E. A. King. The ceremony, which was supposed to have been secret, was witnessed by a few spectators. The marriage of this young couple is the climax of a romantic elopement, which occurred on Sunday, August 11. This couple, who were of legal age, eloped on the above date to Covington, Ky., arriving in time to secure a marriage license before the county clerk had retired for the night. It was too late, however, to find a minister and the two lovers went to a hotel in Cincinnati, happy in the belief that they would be wedded on the following day. Miss Guy's father and mother arrived on the scene in the meantime, and next morning there were weepings and pleadings and the wedding was declared off. McClurg took the license back to Covington and the fee was returned. Miss Guy's parents relented and withdrew their objections to McClurg. The parties are prominent and quite wealthy and the whole affair has created quite a sensation in society circles. They will reside at Irwin.

SOLDIERS

Are on Guard but Martial Law Has Not Been Declared—No Hostilities Occurred.

Madisonville, Ky., Sept. 27.—Although there are more than 100 soldiers here, martial law has not been declared, nor will it be. Last evening a company under Captain James Tandy EMs went to the Rinsche mine and stood guard while the employees left work. This morning the formality was repeated as the men went to work. No sign of hostilities has been seen since the arrival of troops. At the union miners' camp, officers of the militia were guests on the invitation of Judge W. H. Yost and Everett Jennings, union counsel.

The report from the mine is that 65 men worked Thursday out of the usual 260, and did not do much because they were busy discussing the arrival of the troops. Today it is claimed that nearly a full force worked. Adjutant General Murray arrived last night. This morning a brief conference was held with Circuit Judge Nunn but there was no decision as to the length of the stay of the soldiers.

AFTER ALL MAY LOSE OTTERBEIN COLLEGE.

Columbus, Sept. 27.—Columbus is worrying again over the efforts of Dayton to capture the Otterbein University at Westerville. The defeat of the Dayton movement two months ago was by such a small margin that the friends of the institution here dread to go into another fight. It is the general opinion here that if Dayton had known just the kind of a fight she had to make she would have won the institution from Columbus the first time.

GAS SUPPLY GETTING SHORT.

Springfield, O., Sept. 27.—The Springfield Gas Company has notified all factories, public buildings and schools that after October 1 it will be unable to supply natural gas to any except private consumers. As the supply is getting short this step is taken to protect the citizens during the winter.

BETTING ON COLUMBIA.

London, Sept. 27.—The race for the American cup yesterday while not conclusive by any means, in showing which yacht is the better, has nevertheless further shaken the belief of English betting men in Sir Thomas Lipton's bronze beauty. The betting today such as was placed, was at odds of 7 to 4 on Columbia.

HORSE BADLY HURT.

While unloading tombstone bases from a Pan Handle car at the Cedar street crossing, for Mr. H. W. Eagry, a heavy stone slipped, upsetting the dray and badly injuring one of the horses driven by Mr. John Hughes. It is thought that the horse's life can be saved.

MR. CORTELYOU ARRIVES.

Canton, Sept. 27.—Secretary Cortelyou arrived here this morning and will proceed at once to settle the McKinley estate. Surveyors began this morning setting grade stakes in a portion of Westlawn cemetery where it is proposed to place the McKinley monument.

Bellaire Steel Works.

Bellaire, O., Sept. 27.—The Bellaire Steel works resumed in full yesterday, the strike having been settled at a conference in Pittsburgh between President T. J. Davis of Shaffer Lodge and Assistant President Lindsay of the National Steel company. The lodge took two votes on the terms, the second ballot being favorable.

The terms so far as known provide that the men shall not be discriminated against by the management for their Amalgamated leanings, except in cases of not more than 20. These were said to have been too persistently active to suit the company.

The lodge will make weekly payments to the men discharged until they find other jobs. But it cannot be said that the terms are relished by the men as a whole, and there is talk of leaving the Amalgamated and retaining a separate local.

The Santa Fe Railroad company has surveyed for building 815 miles of railroad in the Southwest.

WISE

ADMITS HE DID NOT TELL CAPT. SIGSBEE

TO GIVE SCHLEY INFORMATION ABOUT CERVERA'S FLEET.

TORPEDO BOAT PICKET LINE

Close in to Cienfuegos Harbor, Said Lieut. Wood, but They Were Often Forgotten During the War—Schley's "Disobedience of Orders" Dispatch, His Announcement of Victory.

Washington, Sept. 27.—It had been intended by Judge Advocate Lemly to follow up the examination of the scout ship captains at this morning's session of the Schley court of inquiry, but they are not available. So he decided to call several witnesses who are anxious to leave the city. The session opened at eleven o'clock today.

In the Schley court today Captain Wise admitted that he did not direct Captain Sigsbee to give Admiral Schley information regarding the whereabouts of the Spanish fleet.

Lieutenant Wood of the torpedo boat Dupont, then took the stand and said the torpedo boats were on a picket line close in to Cienfuegos harbor but were often forgotten during the war. This was in refutation of the testimony of Captain Wise who said there was not a picket line arranged by Schley off Cienfuegos. Lieutenant Wood seemed to feel that torpedo boats had never received their just due in the war records.

Mr. Hanna who is assisting Judge Advocate Lemly, said at this point that there was a question as to the correctness of the translation of Admiral Schley's "disobedience of orders" dispatch and that while he would not discuss it now, he would take it up later in detail and show that the dispatch was correctly translated from the code.

Verbal instructions to Schley sent through Hood were that Schley should arrive off Santiago May 24 if possible. Lemly then asked what Sampson said to Hood before he left, but this was ruled out. Regarding this Lemly said: "By raising technical points and trying to restrict testimony Admiral Schley, who asked for the judgment of his brother officers of his conduct in the Santiago campaign, virtually withdraws his application for a court of inquiry." The court ruled that Hood could not give testimony as to conversation with Sampson before leaving him, but might repeat any verbal instruction Sampson directed him to take to Schley.

SCHLEY'S REPORT.

Sampson's Aide Substituted Familiar Cablegram of His Chief—Rank Played Its Part.

Washington, Sept. 28.—When the Colon had surrendered at the close of the battle off Santiago Admiral Schley sent Lieutenant Commander Sears his Flag Lieutenant, ashore with a cable message announcing the Spanish defeat. Lieutenant Commander Staunton of Rear Admiral Sampson's staff stopped the Schley announcement and substituted the now famous dispatch from his chief in which he announced that the squadron under his command presented the destroyed Spanish fleet as a Fourth of July gift to the American people. The dispatch that Admiral Schley tried to send has never been published, and the reason it was not sent will be brought out in the court of inquiry. This dispatch reads:

Santiago, July 3, 1898.

Secretary of Navy, Washington, D. C.

The Spanish squadron came out of Santiago harbor this morning, July 3, at 9:30, and were all captured or destroyed in a running fight to westward of about 3½ hours. Very few casualties in our fleet. Ellis, Chief Yeoman, killed, and one man wounded on the Brooklyn. Reports from other ships not yet in. The Commander in Chief now superintending transfer of prisoners from the Cristobal Colon, which surrendered to the Brooklyn and Oregon at 1:15 p. m. Victory complete. Details later. Served.

PALATIAL

Train of Six Cars Starts With Morgan and Fourteen Guests for the Golden Gate.

New York, Sept. 27.—Bound for the Golden Gate, J. Pierpont Morgan and fourteen guests left this morning on one of the most palatial trains ever started across the continent. Morgan and his guests are going to attend the general convention of the Protestant Episcopal church.

The train of six cars follows the Empire State Express to Buffalo as a second section. Mr. Morgan's special car is the Columbia, with drawing room in the rear. Adjoining is the banker's sleeping compartment.

The first coach is used as a baggage and buffet car with a barber shop in the center. The second coach, is a regular Pullman sleeper. The dining car Hollenden is the third. Three chefs are in charge. Next to the Hollenden is the Columbia, then comes the Genesta, which has ample bedrooms and a large smoking room. The Alroy, with a broad observation platform, brings up the rear. It is composed of small state rooms and a drawing room. The coaches are of mahogany, rosewood and walnut, magnificently appointed with brass and silver trimmings, costly leather and plush upholstery, brass bedsteads, heavy damask curtains, the finest carpets and hardwood floors, electric lights, fans and bells. A dozen negro porters, four waiters, three chefs and the railroad crew have charge.

GROANS LED TO DISCOVERY OF MURDER.

Georgetown, O., Sept. 27.—Neighbors last night heard screams and groans coming from the neighborhood of the old Grant tannery and broke into the little brick house occupied by Homer Fite and his family.

His wife was found lying on the floor with a bullet hole just under her left eye, three stab wounds in her breast and her head badly beaten.

She said her husband had shot her with a Florent rifle after a quarrel, then beat her on the head with the butt end of the weapon. Afterward he stabbed her with a carving knife.

While the neighbors were caring for the wounded woman a shot was heard from the Single mill, next to the Fite mill.

BELILF

THAT THE AMERICAN CUP IS QUITE SAFE.

COLUMBIA'S GOOD SHOWING OF YESTERDAY.

GIVES FEELING OF ELATION

Among Members of the New York Yacht Club and Others Today—Two Yachts Will Try Conclusions Again Saturday—Boats Quiet at Sandy Hook Today.

New York, Sept. 27.—A feeling of elation, quiet but evident, exists among the members of the New York Yacht club today. The cup is safe, they believe, and a smile of satisfaction when discussing the race yesterday between Shamrock and Columbia showed that the club men had every confidence now that the American boat held her rival safe. While one race does not win or keep a cup, there is no doubt that the Columbia's good showing in the fluky airs yesterday has given most of the yachting sharps hereabout a decided opinion that Lipton can't lift the cup this year. They were in doubt before because of the rosy reports that were sent out regarding the challenger and because Constitution built to defend the cup did not come up to the mark. Now these fears have been dispelled. Ferdinand W. Peck, commodore of the Western Yacht club of Chicago, voiced the general opinion of yachtsmen when he said: "I think Columbia has a safe margin and will successfully defend America's cup."

Columbia and Shamrock will go out again tomorrow and try conclusions. Practically the same conditions as governed yesterday's contest will prevail. The boats are lying quietly at their moorings near Sandy Hook today.

Some slight alterations were made on the Columbia's main sail today but that was all. Captain Sycamore said today: "I can't understand how the Columbia went so fast without any air." Lipton is as sanguine of lifting the cup as ever today.

lighted interview today the Evening Times quotes Czolgosz as saying, regarding the assassination:

"Yes, I think it was a mistake. If a miracle could give me back the last month I would not do it. But still I think I did my duty and hope that I will have sufficient courage to meet my fate without doing anything I may be ashamed of." When asked to advise young men not to read anarchistic literature like which led him to commit the crime Czolgosz said he would advise nothing of the kind.

CLOSING SCENE AT BUFFALO.

Buffalo, Sept. 27.—Czolgosz, the doomed assassin of President McKinley, was taken from Buffalo to Auburn state prison to await death by electrocution during the week commencing Monday, Oct. 28. Sheriff Caldwell and 16 men took the prisoner in a special car. The train left the New York Central station over that road at 10:06 p. m. and reached Auburn at 2:20 o'clock. Czolgosz was "sneaked" out the back entrance of the Erie county jail, surrounded by the 17 men, and was hustled into the special car, which had backed down on the terrace tracks, a few rods in the rear of the jail, a minute before.

When Czolgosz was arraigned in court and before sentence had been passed condemning him to death by electrocution during the week of Oct. 28, 1901, the assassin owned a desire to speak but could not get his voice above a whisper, and his words were repeated to the court by his counsel. "There was no one else but me," the prisoner said in a whisper. "No one else told me to do it, and no one paid me to do it. I was not told anything about the crime and I never thought anything about that until a couple of days before I committed the crime."

Czolgosz sat down. He was quite calm, but it was evident that his mind was flooded with thoughts of his own distress. His eyes were dilated, making them appear very bright. His cheeks were a trifle pale, and his outstretched hand trembled. The guards put the handcuffs on his wrists. He looked at one of the officers. There was an expression of the profoundest fear and helplessness in his eyes. He glanced at the people who crowded the room in efforts to get a look at him. The prisoner's eyelids rose and fell tremulously and then he fixed his gaze upon the floor in front of him.

At this point Judge Titus came over to the prisoner and bade him goodby. Czolgosz replied very faintly, setting his eye rest upon the man who has been his counsel. "Goodby," he said weakly. Czolgosz was then hurried down stairs and through the "tunnel of sobs" to the jail, where he remained until removed to Auburn to pay the penalty for his crime.

The death warrant signed by Justice White is addressed to the agent and warden of Auburn state prison, and directs him to execute the sentence of the court within the walls of the prison on some day during the week beginning Oct. 28 next by causing "to pass through the body of the said Leon F. Czolgosz a current of electricity of sufficient intensity to cause death, and that the application of the said current of electricity be continued until he, the said Leon F. Czolgosz, be dead."

SCHLEY.

Staunton went ashore to file Sampson's dispatch and found Lieutenant Sears at the cable office with Commodore Echley's dispatch. Sears asked him about sending Commodore Schley's dispatch and he is said to have replied "You know whether you ought to send a report in the presence of a senior officer."

Washington, Sept. 27.—In the Schley court of inquiry Captain Wise concluded his testimony, Admiral Cotton made a brief statement on recall, and Lieutenant Spencer S. Wood, who commanded the dispatch boat Dupont during the Spanish war, began his testimony. Machinist Gray, who was in charge of the starboard engines on the day of the battle off Santiago, also testified briefly. He said that on the day of the battle the starboard engines were separated and the machinery reversed. Captain Wise was questioned at considerable length as to what he had done before the arrival of the flying squadron off Santiago towards locating Cervera's fleet in the harbor. He said that while he had satisfied himself of the presence of the Spanish fleet, he had been content to communicate his knowledge to Admiral Schley through Captain Sigbee. Lieutenant Wood gave the particulars of his delivery of dispatches from Admiral Sampson to Admiral Schley, on May 22, while the admiral lay off Cienfuegos. He said Schley seemed very nervous and especially anxious to know what Sampson's intentions were.

CORONER'S INQUEST ON THE DEATH OF DANA S. DEVINE

Elijah Clark, Who Witnessed the Tragedy, Recites Account of It.

ANOTHER AUTOPSY HELD THURSDAY NIGHT.

Doctors Who Conducted Second Examination Will Testify That The Deceased's Heart Was Sound—Prisoners Seen In Jail Friday Morning—Case Before The Grand Jury—The Funeral Saturday.

Coroner Scott J. Evans held an inquest on the death of Dana S. Devine in the jury room at the court house at 7 o'clock Thursday evening, at which several witnesses were examined.

The first witness was Harry Devine of this city, a brother of the deceased. His testimony brought out nothing new as his brother was dead when he arrived.

The widow was the next witness, and her testimony was almost an exact repetition of the account published in Thursday's Advocate.

She said that she saw Elijah Clark in the fight, and saw the flash of a revolver. She also said that Kate Clark had made threats against her husband.

The next witness was Elijah Clark. He was sworn and took the stand. His testimony was substantially as follows:

"I went home about ten o'clock, read the Advocate for a while and then lay down on the lounge for a time. My sister called me to listen to a quarrel at Devine's. We sat there for a while and Mrs. Devine and her little girl came out on their porch and sat down for a while. I went back and read the paper again. Mrs. Devine called my sister, Daisy over and related to her the quarrel which was and her husband had had. She told her that Devine had thrown her down. I was called to the door a second time, the quarrel having been renewed. I was at that time dozing on the lounge I heard Harry Moore's voice saying to Devine, 'If you come out I'll make you eat that,' Moore saying Devine had called him a son of a —. I saw Moore go down the walk and get a brick or some other substance. He came back and Devine said, 'What are you going to do now?' Moore asked him to take back what he had called him. Devine edged over toward Moore and grabbed him. They wrestled over toward our house, and it looked to me as if Devine had a strangle hold on Moore. Rees then went to his assistance. I had told Devine to remain on his side and told the boys to stay on our side, as I didn't want any trouble. When Rees got into the trouble Devine let go of Moore and went after him. Rees struck at him but missed and fell from the force of the blow, Devine making a rush for him. I saw no revolver. My sister and I were on the board walk. Did not see Moore throw a rock, or what he did when he got loose from Devine. I did not see Devine fall. I heard Mrs. Devine say, 'Look at Dana,' and he was lying on the porch. At this time Moore, Rees and I were standing in the door."

The ten year old daughter of the dead man had been summoned but her testimony was not taken.

Drs. J. H. Brooke and S. D. McClure who performed the autopsy both testified that when the brain was exposed they found an effusion of blood through that organ, which was caused in their opinion by the blow on the head.

The three-quarter inch wound on the left side of the head did not go quite to the bone. The brain was extravasated with blood. The contused wound might have been caused by a brick, stone or club. Both doctors said that death was caused by effusion of blood through the brain caused by the blow on the head.

The examination then closed.

PRISONERS

Pronounce the Advocate's Account as Correct, But Take Exceptions to Mrs. Devine's Statement.

Harry Moore and Clarence Rees, the two young prisoners were seen at the county jail this morning, by the Advocate. Both had slept comparatively well and had eaten good breakfasts. Of the two Rees seemed to be the more worried, and was inclined to be surly with the reporter.

Both said that the Advocate's account had treated them very fairly, personally, but that the statement of Mrs. Devine, as published was not correct.

"There are some things that will come out that are not known now," said Moore. He continued, "Just tell them that I refused to be interviewed."

Both young men are confident that they will be discharged at the preliminary hearing on Saturday morning. Moore also thanked the reporter for some newspapers sent him by the father, James Moore, and requested that more be sent to while away the time.

ANOTHER

Autopsy Conducted Thursday Night. Heart Said to be Sound—Case Before Grand Jury.

At the instance of Prosecutor Thomas W. Phillips, Dr. D. M. Smith and Dr. J. G. Bower performed a second autopsy on the remains of Mr. Devine after the coroner's inquest Thursday night. There were present Drs. Smith and Bowers, Charles L. Flory, Thomas W. Phillips, and Ardie Wade, medical student in Dr. Smith's office. The doctors performed this second autopsy to discover whether death might not have been due to a breaking down of the heart, as the defense, as outlined in Thursday's Advocate, would probably rely on this point.

They found that in the previous post mortem, the brain substance had been injured, and that there was concussion enough in their opinion, to cause death.

The heart was found to be in a perfect condition, so that this could not have been the cause of Devine's death, the doctors will claim.

The case is before the grand jury, and in a partial report to be made today, the charge against the men will be formulated, and the indictment found, thus doing away with the preliminary hearing scheduled for Saturday morning at 9 o'clock.

MR. DEVINE'S FUNERAL.

The funeral of the late Dana Devine will take place from the home, on West Locust street, on Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock, and the interment will be made in Cedar Hill cemetery.

COMMON PLEAS COURT.

In the case of the City of Newark vs. The Columbus, Buckeye Lake and Newark Traction company, et al., an application was made today to the Court to modify the injunction heretofore granted in regard to the construction of a trestle across Raceoon creek. It was stated by counsel for the railroad that it was the intention of the company to construct a steel bridge across Raceoon creek, and that the trestle at present being built there was merely a temporary structure. The Court stated that he would modify the injunction to that extent, permitting the temporary structure, on ascertaining the time when the steel bridge in all probability could be erected. Rheumatic Warped Limbs.

To suffer the most excruciating pains, to lose the use of limbs, and to have the joints swollen and disfigured is the lot of the victim of rheumatism. Uric acid in the blood is the cause of rheumatism. If the kidneys are active, they remove the uric acid. That is their special work. If, on the other hand, the kidneys are deranged, there is sure to be uric acid in the blood and rheumatic pain through the body. No amount of liniment will ever cure rheumatism. It sometimes relieves, but cure can only be brought about by setting the kidneys right. The most effective kidney remedy known to man is Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. They cure rheumatism permanently by making the kidneys active in their work of removing the uric acid from the blood. Mr. William J. Coad, No. 65 Branson Street, Oswego, N. Y., writes: "I am very glad to praise Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and tell what they have done for me. I suffered for many years with severe constipation, rheumatism and kidney trouble, and could get no relief until I tried Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. In them I found immediate relief, and can honestly recommend them to other sufferers."

RAILROADS.

Trolley Competition.

At the next annual meeting of the General Passenger Agents' Association, which is to be held at Battery Park hotel, Asheville, N. C., Oct. 15, General Passenger Agent E. A. Ford of the Pennsylvania lines, will read a paper on "What Methods Should be Adopted, if Any, in the Matter of Meeting Electric Line Competition," says an exchange. This is an important topic, and one which is of interest to all railroad men. It is thought that the electric lines are to a great extent beneficial to the steam railroads, as they permit passengers to ride comfortably and economically to the steam road terminals. How to meet the competition of the trolley roads where they parallel steam roads is another question. These roads will do the greater part of the local traffic, and only the through business will be handled by the steam roads. It is believed that if such roads as the Fort Wayne, Pan Handle, Pennsylvania, B. & O. and Pittsburg and Lake Erie would put on workingsmen's trains at a low fare from 6 to 7:30 a. m., and from 5:30 to 7 p. m., they would get back an enormous amount of business which was lost to them by the low fares granted by the electric lines.

STRUCK

Because They Were Allowed Only Three Bottles of Beer Each a Day.

Chicago, Sept. 27.—With a battle cry of "Six bottles of beer a day or no work" 30 employees in the bottling department of the Peter Schenck Brewing Company went on a strike. The men say they have been working for small wages, but that they did not mind that as long as the company provided them with six bottles of beer daily. When they were informed that the supply of beer would be reduced to three bottles a day they rebelled.

Now that they have been forced to strike the men say six bottles of beer a day will not induce them to return to work, but that the wages will have to be increased from $7.50 to $8.50 per week and the ration of beer be restored. The men who went on strike are not members of any union.

It is understood that the remains were in a bad state of preservation, but easily identified.

A great many railroad presidents, general passenger agents and managers of railroad and steamship lines will be present, and the indications are that it will be the biggest day of the exposition.

The physicians who attended Harvey say that he literally cried himself to death. It was found impossible to control or assuage his grief, and up to the hour of his dissolution he wept constantly.

He flew from the top of a stable successfully, then announced his intention of sailing from the top of a 100-foot cliff. His father was sent for to stop the dangerous experiment. The fair held by this association are ranked among the best country fairs in the State, and aside from the fine display in all the departments it is an occasion when all the people of the northeastern part of the county meet together, renew old friendships and have a good time.

The display this year, especially in the stock and vegetable departments, is exceedingly fine, and goes far ahead of anything shown on the fair grounds for a long time. The officers of the association are all wide awake hustling gentlemen, and have spared no pains or expense to make the fair this year a success. A big crowd of people was on the grounds today.

ELECTRIC LINE

Work of Securing Signers From Knox County People is Now in Progress—Proposed Resort.

After quoting the Advocate's half column account of the granting of a franchise to the Columbus and Granville electric railway company to operate a line from the northern limits of the city to the north boundary of Licking county along the Mt. Vernon road, the Utica News-Herald adds:

"When the above is said it is all said. A franchise has been granted in Licking county as far north as the county line and a franchise through Utica will probably be asked for at the next meeting of council. Just what street the road will be run through Utica is not as yet decided upon and will not be until the franchise is submitted to the city council. The work of soliciting signers in Knox county to Mt. Vernon is progressing nicely and it will not be a great while before a franchise will be brought before the Knox county commissioners.

"Utica will possibly be greatly favored by the new road. There is a nice lake of water just a couple of miles out of this city, and it will in all probability be turned into a summer resort. This lake will make a beautiful place for a pleasure resort and signs are being taken by the projectors to secure possession of the grounds either by lease or by buying it.

"Some few kicks have been made in regard to this road passing through a long some certain farms, but nothing to amount to anything. Nearly every farmer easily sees the advisability of having an electric line pass by his farm as well as the convenience of it. Of course a franchise does not necessarily mean a road at once, but it is to be hoped that this one, at least, means a road in short order."

To the Advocate a few days ago one of the men vitally interested in the new project said that it is the intention of the company to build the proposed road just as soon as possible and that there will be no unnecessary delay.

ANOTHER GAS WELL.

The Everett Gas Co. struck gas last week on the Crotinger farm, three miles south of Homer, at a depth of 300 feet. The well is said to flow a million per day. It is thought, however, that the well is not a substantial one and that only a shell had been found.—Utica News-Herald.

WHY I AM STILL YOUNG AT 85

By
SAGE

I AM 85 years old AND A YOUNG MAN YET. I can outwork most men of 60. I enjoy work and hope to finish my earthly career at my desk.

I do not care for money as money. I am not avaricious. I take small profits, but my business is so broad it amounts to a great deal. I must take some profit or it would not be business. I enjoy my work and like to be successful.

I am getting more out of life than most men who give big dinners and have yachts. I hope I shall never have to retire until my life work is done. If sickness forces me to quit work, of course it must be so, but if I quit now I'd simply rust out.

I DON'T WANT TO RUST OUT; I WANT TO WEAR OUT.

I never go to extremes in working or eating or exercising. I do everything in moderation. I never put myself in a position where I will have to worry. I never lie awake at night wondering whether I am on the wrong side of the stock market, because I never deal on margin.

It is margins that kill. So many men in Wall street go to excess in their money making. THEY MAKE THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS IN ONE DAY, AND THAT NIGHT THEY GIVE A BIG DINNER AND SPEND MUCH OF IT RUINING THEIR HEALTH. That is why they die suddenly or get old at 60.

Wall street is as good a place for a young man to do business as any other if he will do it ON BUSINESS LINES. If he will buy stocks when they are cheap and hold them for reasonable profits, he will make money, but margining is the fatal mistake many make.

The wisest man can hardly tell which direction the stock will go, but if he buys it outright when it is cheap he does not have to know. That is the secret in stock dealing.

How Strikes May Be Prevented

By ANDREW CARNEGIE

I WOULD LAY IT DOWN AS A MAXIM THAT THERE IS NO EXCUSE FOR A STRIKE OR A LOCKOUT UNTIL ARBITRATION OF DIFFERENCES HAS BEEN OFFERED BY ONE PARTY AND REFUSED BY THE OTHER.

No doubt serious trouble attends even arbitration at present from the difficulty of procuring suitable men to judge intelligently between the disputants. There is a natural disinclination among business men to expose their business to men in whom they have not entire confidence.

We lack so far in America a retired class of men of affairs. OUR VILE PRACTICE IS TO KEEP ON ACCUMULATING MORE DOLLARS UNTIL WE DIE.

If it were the custom here, as it is in England, for men to withdraw from active business after acquiring a fortune, this class would furnish the proper arbitrators.

WHAT WE MUST SEEK IS A PLAN BY WHICH THE MEN WILL RECEIVE HIGH WAGES WHEN THEIR EMPLOYERS ARE RECEIVING HIGH PRICES FOR THE PRODUCT AND HENCE ARE MAKING LARGE PROFITS, AND, PER CONTRA, WHEN THE EMPLOYERS ARE RECEIVING LOW PRICES FOR PRODUCT AND THEREFORE SMALL IF ANY PROFITS, THE MEN WILL RECEIVE LOW WAGES.

If this plan can be found employers and employed will be "in the same boat," rejoicing together in their prosperity and calling into play their fortitude together in adversity. There will be no room for quarrels, and instead of a feeling of antagonism there will be a feeling of partnership between employers and employed.

IGNITED BY A SPARK

Fumes In a Huge Oil Tank Let Go With Sad Effect.

SIX MEN KILLED, SEVEN INJURED.

Victims Were on Top of the Reservoir Attempting the Rescue of Three Workmen Who Had Been Overcome and All Were Blown Skyward When One Used a Chisel.

Newark, N. J., Sept. 27.—By the explosion of an oil tank of the Essex & Hudson Gas company, six men were killed and seven injured. The known dead are: Lawrence Kirch, employed in the works; William Meyer; Otto Newman, foreman at the works; Alfred Snyder, Jersey City; Nicholas Miller, unidentified man. Many witnesses say there is a body in the river, as they saw it hurled high in the air and thrown in that direction. The tank which exploded was one of a number of immense steel reservoirs which was undergoing its periodical cleaning, it having been emptied of its oil. The tank was 20 feet deep and Kirch and Meyer entered through the manhole without first taking the precaution of having ropes tied about them. They were immediately overcome by the fumes. Foreman Newman saw this and started down after them after shouting a warning to the other workmen in the yard. He, too, collapsed in the tank.

Nicholas Miller, a groceryman near by, had once been a foreman at the works. He was in the yards and at once assumed charge of the rescue. Summoning others, the men began with chisels to cut a large ring in the tank. It is supposed one of the chisels in striking the steel caused the emission of a spark, for instantly there was an explosion like that of a cannon and then a sheet of flame.

Ten men were on top of the tank at the time. They were swept away in all directions. Miller, Snyder, the unidentified man and the one supposed to be in the river seem to have borne the brunt of the terrific shock. The three first mentioned were not badly mangled, but not a bone in their frames was left unbroken, says the county physician, this fact being due to their being blown many feet into the air and the force with which they struck the ground. The tank was rent in twain, and after all was over the bodies of the three men in it were taken out. The gas and other tanks in the yard were surrounded by flames for a short time, but none exploded, and the firemen had little to do. Ambulances soon conveyed the injured to a hospital.

Mrs. McKinley's Condition.
Canton, O., Sept. 27.—"Mrs. McKinley is doing just as well as any woman could under similar circumstances. Her strength is not all that could be desired, but she is doing just as well as could be expected." This was the expression of Dr. Rixey to a query as to the condition of Mrs. McKinley. The usual visit was paid to the cemetery and the usual country drive was taken. Mrs. McKinley usually proposes the cemetery visits, but generally the country drive is suggested by her friends and her acquiescence secured. These outings continue to be beneficial, promoting sleep and appetite.

Bryan on Freedom of Speech.
Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 27.—W. J. Bryan is opposed to any limitation upon the freedom of speech, which he says has been suggested as a cure for anarchy. Mr. Bryan believes the evils of restriction are greater than the evils of freedom, and further declares that the death of President McKinley can not be traced to anything said or written against him. The warlike, he says, must be against anarchy, not against freedom of speech. Anarchy, he insists, is a European product, and thrives most where there is the least freedom of speech and of the press.

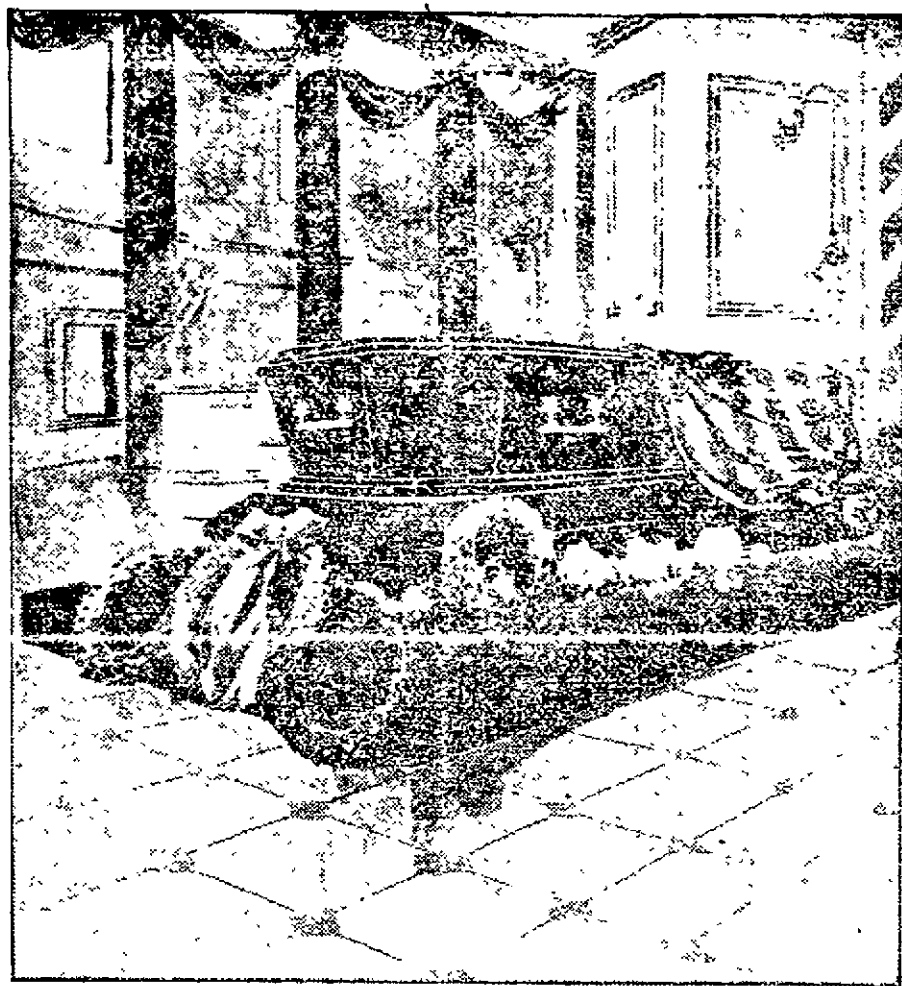

Charged With Murder.
Ardmore, I. T., Sept. 27.—George Moran, who was arrested 10 days ago in the Chickasaw country and placed in jail here, was identified by Dr. Z. B. Beamblossom of Oklahoma City as the man who murdered the doctor's 14-year-old son near Rush Spring, O. T., on Aug. 10. Beamblossom and his son were going overland during the land opening and were held up by a gang of outlaws, one of whom shot the boy.

Hazing Goes.
Faribault, Minn., Sept. 27.—The trouble at Shattuck military school has been adjusted and the students returned to work. Wednesday an order prohibiting hazing was read. The boys at once objected and left the school but were later induced to return. It is given out that the objectionable order will be rescinded, and with this understanding class work is moving as usual.

FLUKE RACE

Demonstrated the Superiority of the Cup Defender Columbia Over The Shamrock.

New York, Sept. 27.—The cup defender Columbia's superiority in light airs over the English challenger, Shamrock II, appears to have been demonstrated by the trial race. The Shamrock did not, in fact, make as good a showing as did Lipton's first challenger in the half dozen flukes that preceded the actual races two years ago. What Shamrock II may be able to do in heavy weather is of course problematical, but Columbia has been tried, and all her admirers insist that she is distinctively a heavy weather boat.

One of the biggest crowds that ever put to sea went down to Sandy Hook lights to see the race, but returned disappointed. The wind, never more than nine and sometimes as low as three knots, was too light and shifty to carry the contestants over the 30-mile course in the allotted time. When the gun aboard the committee boat was fired to call attention to the signal declaring the race off, the American yacht was still seven miles from the finish line. The Englishman was hard down astern of her, the experts estimating her distance behind the Columbia at over three-quarters of a mile. Columbia was headed but once in the 23 miles covered, the Englishman holding the lead for five minutes.

London Disappointed.

London, Sept. 27.—The failure of the yachts to cover the course in time to constitute a race has created general disappointment in Great Britain, but chagrin at the poor showing of Shamrock II overshadows all other expressions of feeling. The great suburban population of London was kept advised of the progress of events by pyrotechnics at the Alexandra and Crystal palaces on the north and south sides of the city. Among the masses gathered on the embankment the keenest disappointment was evinced. Evidently they had expected the challenger to outdo the defender under any conditions. The sporting clubs announce a very small amount of wagers. King Edward displayed great interest and was kept posted as to every movement of the yachts.

Columbia the Favorite.
New York, Sept. 27.—Numerous wagers on the yacht races were reported in Stock Exchange circles. Most of them were at odds of 10 to 8 on Columbia, but as good as 10 to 7 was offered at different times. No very large bets were announced, although Columbia money is offered in almost any amount. One brokerage firm offered to wager any part of $4,000 even that Shamrock would not win two races of the series. About $4,000 was placed on Columbia at 5 to 3½. Most of this money was taken in $100 and $200 lots. One broker said he had $5,000 to bet even against Shamrock's winning two of the race. On the curb as good as 10 to 6½ was offered on Columbia with no takers.

Press Comment.
London, Sept. 27.—The newspapers express the keenest disappointment. The Daily Mail and Daily Graphic, The Morning Post and The Standard, all contend that the weather conditions were too fluky to justify any verdict on the ultimate performances, but even these journals are not very hopeful of the ability of the challenger to "lift" the cup, and they admit that her performance was very disappointing. The other papers virtually abandon hope.

SHE NEEDED SOME CHANGE

Her Gentle Hint to Hubby Worked to Perfection.

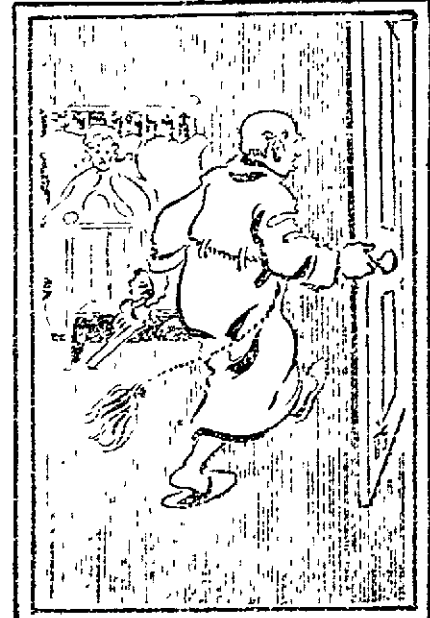

"I wish, John," she said regretfully, "I had had sense enough not to destroy all the letters you wrote me during the year and a half of our courtship." He smiled in a gratified way.

"I knew you would regret that some time," he said.

"Indeed I do," she replied. "I need a little change the worst sort of way, and the man who buys rags and old paper was here today. How wasteful we are in our youth!"

He looked at her reproachfully, and almost instinctively his hand sought his pocketbook. It is seldom indeed that a resourceful woman has to make a direct request for money.—Chicago Post.

Good Logic.

She—I surely bear steps coming up the hall.
He—Impossible! I had them firmly nailed down last week where they were loose.—Chicago News.

AMUSEMENTS.

A sermon with a play as a text is somewhat of an innovation even in these liberal days with the departing of the nineteenth century. Yet the Rev. Alice K. Wright, Prospect Heights church, Brooklyn, chose as the subject of an evening discourse "Way Down East." The text, I Tim. 5th chapter, 22d verse, "Keep thyself pure." The lady said in part, "A desire to talk upon this subject came to me when I heard the interesting drama in which the thought of my subject is most vividly illustrated. I am conscious of the fact that a minister who gets an inspiration for a sermon from the theatre is thought by some good Christian people to be a very suspicious sort of a person. But I believe that the mass of the people and a large number of the clergy of today, recognize in the theatre a great moral force. I believe that they are very one-sided who fail to acknowledge that there are good theatres, which rank with our institutions of learning, and our churches as educational and moral forces; and that there are pure, clean dramas enacted therein that rank with our best literature, lectures and sermons as uplifting and inspiring influences. Next to real life there is no more forcible way to impress a lesson than in the representation of real which the stage affords, and I believe the stage and pulpit, the theatre and church, should work together. When I saw "Way Down East" I was impressed anew by the mighty power for good that the stage is capable of exerting. The great moral lessons in this play are ones that long appeal to me from my study of men, women and books, but never with a more vivid and forcible impression than in this drama. When going to hear it I noticed on the play boards these words: "Every woman ought to hear 'Way Down East' and bring every man." Upon my return I wanted to stop and underline every one of these words, for the force of their meaning was felt; and the popularity of this play and the long continued success that it is winning, testify to the good moral sense of the piece. I hope you will all hear the play, and I shall only draw your attention to the great central lesson that it teaches."

The speaker then in the most eloquent manner pictured the story, depicted the scenes, and drew the moral that in the matter of morals there could not be one law for the man and another for the woman. Auditorium, matinee and night performance, Sept. 28—tomorrow.

NEXT WEEK.

The Keystone Dramatic company will present "Charity Bess" as their opening bill at the Auditorium next week. It is presented for the first time by this organization at popular prices. The strength of the company, the excellence of the specialties, and the richness of the costumes are all factors which the management wish to leave for a "first night" approval. Other critics have claimed that the presentations by this company are the most perfect ever attempted by a repertoire company, as the productions are given entire. Miss Gertrude Shipman and Mr. Lawrence B. McGill are at the head of the organization. The Keystone will be at the Auditorium all of next week, "Fair Week," at popular prices.

GASTRITIS.

Caused by Some Irritant Acting Upon the Mucous Membrane of the Stomach.

Inflammation of the stomach, gastritis, as this unpleasant affliction is variously called, may, like most inflammatory diseases, be acute or chronic in its course. The symptoms of gastritis are more or less fever, weak pulse, loss of appetite, coated tongue, foul breath, bad taste in the mouth, the head aches dully. There is sensation of weight or distress in the stomach. Gastritis is caused by some irritant acting on the mucous membrane of the stomach, the irritant is often formed in the stomach by the fermentation of indigestible food. Gastritis will never develop if you take regularly Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, the guaranteed cure for indigestion, constipation and all diseases arising from stomach troubles. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is an all the year round medicine. Good for the whole family from the smallest infant up. It is the best life insurance. SHOTGUN

Used in Avenging an Assault Made on White Woman by a Negro Employee.

Columbia, Tenn., Sept. 27.—One of the most sensational affairs that ever occurred in the vicinity was brought to light by the killing of Albert Witherspoon, colored, by Swell McKnight, a prominent white citizen, in the western part of this county. McKnight is married and has one child. Several years ago he employed Witherspoon to work in a sawmill. McKnight compelled his wife to tell him the truth of her relations with Witherspoon. She claimed that he assaulted her, and afterward kept her from telling on him by threats. McKnight took his shotgun, went to the sawmill where the negro was at work, and blew his head almost off. No warrant has yet been taken out for McKnight, and probably none will be.

GORED

By a Bull, Shot, Dynamited, Knocked Senseless, Milton Jones Lives to Tell the Tale.

Frankfort, Ind., Sept. 27.—Milton Jones, a farmer accidentally shot himself through the left hand and left leg, and again broke all known records of accidents.

Four years ago a team of horses ran away and threw Jones in a creek, knocking him senseless, and he was taken out of the stream apparently dead. He revived, however, and a few months later was attacked by a mad bull and frightfully gored. He recovered and a little later, while blowing stumps with dynamite, a premature explosion blew him 30 feet. He escaped with only a few bruises and lacerations. Then a horse kicked him, breaking five ribs and an arm, but a few months put him in shape to climb a tree for wild bee honey. He fell and lodged in a fork of a tree, where he remained for three days and nights until rescued. He managed to escape further accidents until this harvest, when, while helping a neighbor to thrash, he was struck in the head by a pitchfork, the tines penetrating his skull. The surgeons said he would die, but he recovered.

Wednesday Jones took his revolver to do a little target shooting and it accidentally discharged, the ball plowing through his hand and leg. Bets are offered that he will recover.
